Take off for new airport extension

THE £10 million extension of Southend Airport was officially opened this week by the secretary of state for transport.

On Monday, April 7, secretary of state for transport, Patrick McLoughlin, officially unveiled a commemorative plaque marking the successful completion of the final phase of the airport.

During his visit he was given a behind the scenes tour of the airport before he spoke to representatives from the airport.

The six year project of extending the airport has cost a total of £120 million in redevelopment.

Secretary of state for transport, Patrick McLoughlin said he was pleased he had seen the new redevelopment of the airport first hand.

He said: "The growth of the airport is seeing fantastic news for the regional economy and passengers alike.

"This new terminal extension means a better facilities for travellers and a boost for the UK's travel infrastructure." Rochford and Southend East MP, James Duddridge, who was also at the event to mark the launch said he was delighted to have seen the unveiling of the plaque.

'RIGHT' KIDS TO SIT EXAM

Bid to reverse Grammar level decline in local pupil numbers

A PLAN to halt the declining numbers of Southend pupils getting into the borough's four grammar schools has been launched.

Southend Council announced an investigation in November after less than 200 local children in 2013 took up 600 available places at Southend Boys, Southend Girls, Westcliff Boys, Westcliff Girls.

The decline was part of trend that began in 2009 that has seen children from outside of Southend - some travelling from as far as Brentwood - taking up grammar school places.

Councillor James Courtney, lead member for schools at Southend Council, announced a seven-point pledge to ensure primary school children have the best chance of getting into grammar schools.

He said: "We have stated our expectation to primary headteachers that all children who obtain a certain level in their Key Stage Two SATS should be actively encouraged to consider grammar school as an option.

"These activities are bearing fruit, with a significant increase in Southend's children obtaining a place in one of the grammar schools for September 2014.

"Southend has a wealth of secondary schools, special, grammar, faith, comprehensive and specialist and it is important that all our parents, supported by their primary school, consider the entire range for their children."

A cross party team, headed up by Cllr Alex Kaye, was set up by Cllr Courtney to investigate falling grammar schools places secured by local pupils.

It concluded the although roughly the same amount of youngsters were sitting the 11 plus, grammar school places fell from almost 300 in 2009 to less than 200 in 2013.

The fall coincided with a huge increase in Southend children attaining Level 5 or above in English and Maths, from 20.3 per cent in 2009 to 37.2 per cent in 2012, (the national figure was 27.0 per cent in 2012).

A report presented to councillors on Tuesday night said that despite there being 'no change in entry requirements' by the grammar schools, 'there has been a steady decline in the success of [grammar school] applicants living in the town'.

Mr Courtney said he believed this

Photos on the buses

FIVE photographers are celebrating after being announced as the winners of a competition that will see their work on the side of buses.

Although a difficult decision, Arriva and the team at the Yellow Advertiser boiled down hundreds of entries of pictures from all over Southend to the final five.

The first by Wesley Freemantle, shows the oldest cliff in the UK on Southend seafront.

Jan Shelley also came in the top five with a view of an art exhibit on the pier with Southend in the background.

A picturesque sunset scene at Old Leigh was taken by Alan Wright will also be seen on the side of the Arriva buses.

The iconic Kursaal and fountains on City Beach taken by Sandra Mayhew also came in the top slots.

The finalist photo by Duane Robinson of Thorpe Bay Yacht Club was also selected, giving him a free three month bus pass.

Arriva's regional marketing manager, Linsey Frostick, said people seemed to have had fun taking photos for the competition.

She said: "We were so impressed by the quality of entries we received.

"We can't wait to see the winning shots on our new buses, we think they'll really help to highlight that you don't need a car to visit or get around Southend because our services are so frequent and great value."

Winner Alan Wright, from Westcliff, said he was thrilled having his picture chosen.

He said: "Having lived in this area for 25 years I feel that we have a lot to be proud of as residents and, of course Old Leigh is one of our jewels and an artist's delight.

"I will feel proud to see my photo on the bus."

Mrs Shelley from Wakering, who took her photo last summer when they had a sculpture exhibition at the foreshore at the end of the pier, said she felt lucky to have such a diverse seafront to take photos of.

She said: "I liked the fact that you were looking through the circle back at the town. It showed the new look Park Inn hotel, the fun side of Southend with Adventure Island and the old buildings in Royal Terrace.

"Thanks to Arriva and Yellow Advertiser for the opportunity and a great free paper."

Fare dodgers

A TICKET checking operation at c2c stations has resulted in almost 450 people being caught without a ticket on the trains.

Inspectors and security staff supported by officers from the British Transport Police (BTP), took part in the 'show of force' exercises at stations along the c2c route.

So far 381 people have paid penalty fares for not having a valid ticket, costing them at least £20.

A further 65 people have been reported for potential prosecutions which could see them fined up to £1,000 in court.

Essex Police's Taser use increases by almost 350 per cent in two years

Police Taser use soars

EXCLUSIVE
By Charles Thomson

southend@yellowad.co.uk

DEPLOYMENT of Taser weapons by Essex Police has increased by almost 350 per cent in the last two years.

Figures released by the Office for National Statistics showed officers employed by the force discharged Tasers 34 times in 2011, but 152 times in 2013.

The difference amounted to a 347 per cent increase.

However, in the same period violent crime had risen by just six per cent from 19,357 offences in 2011 to 20,547 in 2013.

Between 2012 and 2013, Taser use rose from 100 incidents to 152 – a year-on-year increase of 52 per cent, compared to a 13 per cent increase in violent crime.

It was the 10th highest increase in Taser use across the whole of the UK.

The weapons cause disabling muscle spasms by shooting 1,200 volts through suspects' bodies.

Essex Police has defended the increases but campaigners have said it shows a 'concerning' trend.

Amnesty International police and arms specialist Oliver Sprague said: "Any significant increase in Taser use across Essex, whether drawn or fired, is concerning given the severe pain these weapons can inflict and, as our research has shown, can be potentially fatal.

"The weapon was introduced into UK policing specifically to deal with incidents of life-threatening or very serious violence from a safer distance and the figures make it impossible to tell if Essex Police is using the weapon only in these circumstances.

"Amnesty's fear is that wider deployment could lead to Tasers being misused for far more minor incidents."

The force issued a one-line statement in defence of the statistics.

It said: "The increase in deployment of Taser is due to there being more officers trained in the carriage and deployment of Taser."

Anti-taser activist Richard Taylor said the explanation suggested police were using Tasers out of convenience rather than necessity.

He said: "It's not very good. It's a worrying, surprising and shocking response, but it's probably an honest response. What it's not saying is that there are more occasions where Taser use is a proper response. It seems to be the case that if there are more Tasers around, we see them being used more often."

Mr Taylor has lobbied government and campaigned in the press for Tasers to be available only to firearms officers.

"I strongly support officers using Tasers instead of a gun, but I think we need our neighbourhood officers going around with Tasers."

Essex Police referred the YA to national guidance on Taser use, which said officers must always justify deployment of the weapons as having been 'necessary and proportionate'.

The guidance said: "Taser provides an additional option to resolve situation, including the threat of violence, which can come from any section of the public."

Ava races into contest final

A DOG from Southend is through to the grand final of a competition to find the fittest mutt in the country.

Labradoodle, Ava, has been crowned one of the Butcher's Lean and Tasty Fittest Dog in the region and will now go onto the national final.

The two-year-old will now go nose to nose with nine other finalists at Onley Grounds Equestrian Complex, in Rugby, on Saturday, April 12.

Owner Emm Boitout said Ava was a cheeky family pet with plenty of character. The 28-year-old said: "We are always down the park having a good old run around and she also loves chasing her friends around, we have another dog and also a cat in the family so the three of them get up to plenty of mischief."

FREE ADVICE: Volunteer CAP money coaches Steve Currell, Wally Nobes, Alan Cook, Julie Eady and John Bastin

Our Holy fiver

A CHURCH is set to help people become more savvy with their cash with free advice sessions.

Members of Leigh Road Baptist Church, in Leigh, wanted to help the local community to best handle the economic climate so have had specialised training from charity Christians Against Poverty.

Money coach Alan Cook, will be leading the sessions called the CAP money course. He said: "With households feeling the squeeze on their disposable income, we've all got to get a bit more savvy about our money to get through these tough times.

"If you know how to save and budget effectively, it can have a hugely positive impact on the whole family."

Leigh Road Baptist Church is one of more than 1,200 churches across the UK regularly offering the course.

The course has been found to be useful for newly retired people, soon to be students and mums dealing with bills.

Mr Cook added: "We hope that we can help people, quietly and confidentially, take control rather than relying on guess work so they can plan for the future and weather the storm."

The next course will start at the Oasis, The Coffee House, 189 Leigh Road, Leigh, from 7.45pm on Wednesday, May 7.

To book onto the course call 01702 478698.

Pier shortlisted for hall of fame

SOUTHEND PIER has been shortlisted to be entered into the National Tourist Board's hall of fame.

Councillors are now urging people, businesses and visitors to vote for the attraction which could see it being part of an exhibition to mark St George's Day.

Councillor responsible for culture and tourism, Derek Jarvis, said the authority had always believed the world famous pier was a jewel in the town's crown.

He said: "I think it is absolutely fantastic that we have made it into the final sixty and alongside some other fantastic and traditional English places and events.

"However, I would urge local people and our visitors who love the pier so dearly to vote it as their favourite and see it is crowned number one."

The search to establish the hall of fame began in February when Visit England asked the public to submit their suggestions of what makes the country such a diverse place to visit and explore.

Members of the public have been submitting their options with the longest pleasure pier in the world coming under the leisure category.

The top 60 claims can be viewed at www.england-shalloffame.com and people have until Sunday, April 13 to cast votes.

The people's choice will then go on display in a one off exhibition on London's Southbank on St Georges Day.

In the same category as the pier is the birthplace of cricket, tennis and rugby, the Oxford and Cambridge boat race and the world's first helicopter skelter.

Air ambulance funding

ESSEX Air Ambulance Trust has received a £10,000 donation towards keeping lifesaving helicopters in the air.

In September last year hundreds of cyclists took part in Thorpe Bay Rotary Club's annual fund raising bike ride cycling round Foulness Island.

The rotary club presented the check to the emergency service on Tuesday, April 1.

Veteran event

SOUTHEND Association of Voluntary Services (SAVS) has been holding sessions for veterans to meet each other.

The next session will be held at SAVS, 29 Alexandra Street, Southend, between 10am and 1pm, on Thursday, April 10.

Film festival

THIS year's Southend Film Festival will open with a special screening of two previously lost Peter Sellers films.

The films Dearth of a Salesman and Insomnia is Good For You were found by chance in a skip in London and will open the annual festival which runs between Friday, May 2, and Monday, May 5.

To find out more details about the festival and to book tickets visit www.southendfilmfestival.com

Funding boost for First World War commemoration

A COMMEMORATION of the First World War has been boosted with £77,900 worth of Heritage Lottery funding.

The money will go towards a series of events throughout Southend including an exhibition at Central Museum.

The exhibition called Southend and the Great War will run from Saturday, August 2, until February next year.

It will feature the role Southend played in the war and themes around the home front, Zeppelins over the town, spies and prison ships being moored off the pier.

The funding will also support the employment of an outreach officer for 18 months to work with schools and the community.

Armed Forces Day events will be held over a period of three days with a schools' day being held on Friday, June 27, and a parade, music concert and range of activities on the seafront on Saturday, June 28, and Sunday, June 29.

Councillor for culture and tourism, Derek Jarvis, said he felt privileged to get the money.

He said: "It will allow us to remember the role Southend played in the war, commemorate the residents of Southend who lost their lives in the Great War and run a series of community based events"

Head of Heritage Lottery, Robyn

Llewellyn said more than £15 million had been invested nationwide on commemorative events.

He said: "With our new small grants programme we are enabling even more communities like those involved in Southend and the Great War to use museum collections to appreciate fully the legacy of this conflict and help young people in particular to broaden their understanding of how it has shaped our modern world."

Pledge made over the 11+

decline may have been the result of the 'wrong' pupils being asked to sit the 11+, while those more qualified to pass had not been encouraged to sit the exam.

"Maybe we took our foot off the gas," he said. "The right kids have not always been sitting the exam. That's why we are announcing this seven-point plan, and already this year we have seen a huge rise in the number of local children being offered a grammar school place."

Mrs Kaye, chairman of the project team, said she was delighted to present the study and seven-point pledge.

The pledge promises that every child will access to 'appropriate secondary education', by improving communication between schools and parents. It will also see an annually updated directory being provided by the four grammar schools.

Mrs Kaye said: "We were very conscious of the fact that grammar school education is not right for every child and supported the principle of parental choice."

"Having said that, we feel it is important that this choice comes from a knowledgeable position about what is available for all pupils transitioning from primary to secondary education."

"I'm delighted that our work is already showing an increase in next year's numbers at the grammar schools."

Visteon breakthrough

VISTEON pensioners are to be offered compensation under a deal struck between the Unite union and motor giant Ford, which owned the car parts firm before it went bust.

Former staff have been fighting for five years for the reinstatement of pensions which were reduced when the firm folded, leaving some staff 40 per cent worse off.

They say they should have been allowed to keep their Ford pensions when workers were transferred from Ford to Visteon, when the firm was set up in 2000. The Visteon Pensioners Action Group (VPAG) was formed to fight for their rights.

Details of the agreement are confidential, but it is thought to cover around 1,400 ex-staff from Basildon, Enfield, Swansea and Belfast, who are party to legal action against Ford.

The news was given to a rally in London of more than 100 former employees, many from Basildon, five years and a day after the Visteon was shut and staff axed.

Unite stated: "The union has concluded an agreement with Ford to make a settlement offer to eligible ex-employees who filed legal claims in connection with reductions to their pensions after Visteon UK was put into administration in 2009. Unite and Ford have been involved in lengthy but constructive discussions to reach this settlement."

But still a long way to go in pensions row, says ex-staff group

Howard Beckett Unite's legal affairs officer is addressing mass meetings at Swansea, Basildon and Belfast this week about the offer.

Andy Belch, of the VPAG steering group said: "It is a breakthrough, but there is a long way to go yet. Every eligible former employee will receive and individual offer."

"We have had a great deal of support from many quarters including MPs who have racked up the pressure on Ford." The deal has been welcomed by those MPs.

Rebecca Harris, Castle Point MP, said: "The determination and perseverance of the VPAG has been amazing." Stephen Metcalfe, South Basildon and East Thurrock MP and chair of the all-party Parliamentary group in support of the pensioners, congratulated VPAG on its 'hard fought campaign'.

Former Labour MP Angela Smith, now Baroness Smith of Basildon said she was 'optimistic now that Ford had made an offer'.

Ford corporate affairs manager Brian Bennett said: "The company has concluded an agreement with Unite union to make a settlement offer to eligible ex-Visteon employees. The settlement, if approved by Visteon pensioners, would avoid further expense for participants in the case and will settle the legal claims that these individuals have made against Ford. Details of the settlement are confidential and a private matter for those directly involved."

Legal action brought by Unite and VPAG is still with the Court of Chancery and will proceed should the proposed settlement fail.

Can team that got all the way to Berlin in 2013 win Jailbreak this year?

By Paul Giles

southend@yellowad.co.uk

THE team that won the Essex Jailbreak by getting all the way to Berlin last year are soon to escape again.

Southend YMCA's team is going to be busting out of Chelmsford Prison in the event arranged by the Essex Boys and Girls Clubs.

They will have just 15 hours to get as far away from the prison as possible on April 26 without spending a penny.

In 2013, the team, called Southend Prisoners, were driven through four countries to get to Berlin after they organised a donated car and driver.

They also got a free ferry ride and were even allowed on the bridge to steer the ship for part of the way across the Channel, eventually raising the largest amount of money.

Team member Mike Bromfield, also a youth worker at Southend YMCA, said: "We couldn't believe the response we got from friends and the public, but we have our eyes set on going bigger and better this year. We've got ourselves a reputation now and there's no going back."

The team will have to entirely rely on what they can negotiate for free or any corporate sponsorship.

Mike added: "We don't want to give too much away as there are other teams from Essex competing, but we are aiming to make the most of our 15 hours and pull off an impressive distance."

Sponsor them at www.just-giving.com/teams/southend-prisoners or text JAIL xx £5 or JAIL xx £10 to 70070.

By Paul Giles

southend@yellowad.co.uk

AN art gallery is celebrating its first year with a new addition of an artist.

The Estuary Gallery Co-operative, in Leigh, has taken on board landscape and portrait painter, John Harwood.

John will be displaying work alongside other members of the co-operative. He is now retired and has time to pursue his passion of painting portraits, seascapes and landscapes.

The painter has won awards for best local landscape and best portrait at the Essex Open Exhibition held at the Beecroft Gallery, in Westcliff.

The current Estuary Co-operative exhibition will last until Thursday (April 10), at the gallery in Belton Way, Leigh.

PLANS to build a new hospice in Southend are being discussed as part of a public consultation of the Prittlebrook Industrial Estate.

Havens Hospices is working with developer Bellway Homes to create a larger Fair Havens Hospice for adults on a corner of the site, better known as the Ekco site.

The charity has agreement to buy 3.5 acres of land to build the hospice so it can care for twice as many patients.

A consultation took place on Wednesday, April 2, at the Prittlewell Priory Visitor Centre so residents could view the plans.

Chief executive of Havens Hospice, Andy Smith said with the need for specialist hospice care growing year on year it was 'a delight' to unveil plans to the public.

He said: "This is very much a joint development with Bellway Homes and we are looking to them for guidance and advice as we embark on this particular journey at the Ekco site."

The new hospice could feature a crescent shaped building with therapeutic space and gardens, a large day centre, four treatment rooms, a chapel and 16 in patient bedrooms.

Local people who could not make the consultation can view plans by visiting www.havenshospice.org.uk/newfairhavens.

A joint planning application between Havens Hospice and Bellway Homes will be submitted to Southend Council in June.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Fake police call scam

DETECTIVES are urging people to be on their guard against telephone fraudsters who targeted 140 homes in March.

In 11 of the incidents people were tricked into handing over a total of £39,000.

With each case the caller claims to be a detective from the Met or Essex Police and asks for cash and bank cards to check.

Police and bank officials never call by phone to ask for bank details or ask you to withdraw large sums of cash.

Writing's on the wall

LARGE-scale painted texts by David Mabb are to be displayed at The Forum, Southend.

There will be a total of 40 works in on show in Gallery One at the Elmer Square centre from Saturday (April 12).

Wheel's in motion

A POPULAR Southend icon rolled back into action at the weekend after a £200,000 renovation.

The big wheel at Adventure Island was closed to the public in November but now, after an overhaul, the 39-year-old attraction is open.

Describing the work done to the structure, general manager Robert Roberts said the wheel was carefully stripped back to bare steel by shotblasting it and then repainted with specialised paint similar to that used on oil rigs.

He said: "This work was carried out in our new, £100,000 spray booth that we have invested in time for this project to begin."

Brand new technology was also added to the existing analogue machinery for a smoother ride.

Mr Roberts said: "An intelligent control system was designed and built by our own workshop team, using the very latest inverter technology.

"Not only will the wheel look terrific but you'll also feel a smoother start and stop process, with more efficient, quicker boarding and exiting of the ride."

Opinion and readers' letters

Badger cull served no purpose

I have been reading with interest the letters from Patricia Hall.

The badger cull served no purpose whatsoever. I do not agree that badgers cause bovine TB and most experts agree that only nine to 14 per cent may have the disease meaning 86 to 91 per cent do not. These animals can be a pest at times but humans invaded their habitat not the other way round. We were promised by the Government they would be a protected species, a promise that has been broken.

Let's face it there's always a risk if you eat meat because you cannot guarantee that an animal is well at the time of slaughter. Only a few years ago our gelatine was banned from France. Now gelatine is used in medicinal capsules which is offensive to some people and religions. There is always someone trying to slaughter wildlife and when we are not doing that we slaughter each other. Seals were once a target claiming they ate too many fish, fox hunting is another vicious pursuit, hoodlums tearing the countryside up.

We are not the only species on this planet and nature will balance its own population. Cats have been targeted this week; two cats have caught TB. How many cats are there in Britain?

Probably hundreds of thousands. This will cause sensationalism and another hate campaign.

In countries like Africa there are so many poachers now that when my granddaughter grows up most of the animals will be extinct. A bleak thought. I don't normally speak out against the Royal Family but even they are now having their say but let's face it they live by the gun and pursue a number of hunting activities - not a shining example.

Good wishes for all people campaigning for dumb creatures.

We're going backwards, not forwards

My wife and I are implacably opposed to the insidious process of privatising the people's National Health Service, and would like to see Ed Miliband adopt a policy of reversing the damaging measures that have already been taken by the most unprincipled Tory government that I have ever known in the 70 years since I first became politically aware.

This wrecking crew intends to take us back to the days when my uncle lanced a boil on my neck because Mother could not find 7/6, about 38p, to pay the doctor. The current crop of Lib-Dems carry on nodding through these wicked Tory plans... Nought for sick patients' comfort from them! They seem to hate our valuable public sector just as much as any rabid backwards Tory.

Also Sections 118 & 119 have been railroaded through Parliament by Jeremy 'Hatchet Man' Hunt, who has used these new powers to appoint an enforcer, accountable only to Hunt, who can, at the drop of a hat, reduce any hospital's facilities or even close it right down: no public consultation would be allowed under this fascist-type legal regime. All in the name of the God of Mammon who is worshipped by unscrupulous moneymakers everywhere.

So it is vitally urgent to recall the 1945 slogan: "The Need of the Hour, Put Labour in Power!" and act upon it in May next year. After all, they are now the only hope we've got.

Leave the blood service alone

Re your articles about the NHS in Southend.

As patients of blood tests at Rayleigh which are then processed at Southend Hospital, we are in complete agreement about leaving the testing as it is, and not, repeat not, going out to private tender, least of all to a private French company.

Roads are in a deplorable state

I do not think Cllr Norman Smith actually said Manor Trading Estate and Charfleets were marvellous places, but indicated that they were improved places. (YA April 4)

I totally agree with Brian Wilson that the roads on the Manor Trading Estate are in a deplorable state, as I know to my cost, having taken a tumble there.

However these roads are not owned by Castle Point but by a developer - the sites are owned by number of different owners also.

Perhaps Brian you could use your powers of persuasion to improve this situation, as I am not sure Castle Point residents would be pleased that their council tax be spent doing work that should be done by the owner

Cllr Jackie Govier

Big business pressure U-turn

Whether residents welcome Aldi building a store at Tarpots or not, agreement to their proposal for access is questionable.

It is difficult to understand how Essex County Council could, a few years ago, determine that traffic would be backed up from Tarpots to Sadlers, if a right hand turn into Rushbottom Lane was permitted.

This, it was said, would cause jams at Sadlers. Now the county council and Castle Point Council have approved this application, are we going to have less traffic travelling west to east? Will there be less traffic wanting to turn right when Aldi has finished its building? I think not.

Why have they changed their mind now? Is it perhaps that Aldi wouldn't build its supermarket there if it did not get its right turn?

Between 4pm and 6pm at the moment the traffic backs up right back to Sadlers, just let's hope that the right turn phase at the lights, doesn't make things worse.

It is strange how pressure from big business to allow a right turn can make both a large county and a small district authority, make a significant U turn.

Brian Wilson
Benfleet

Survey was 'confusing' and 'vague'

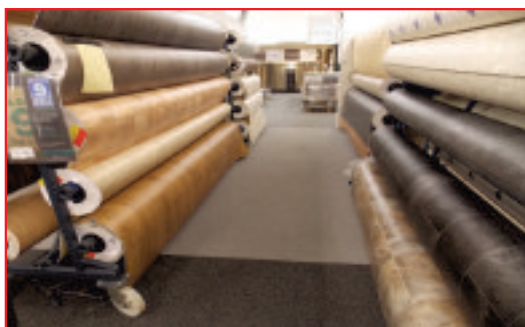

Further to Cllr Lewin's claim to have completed a survey of Thornford Gardens which shows support for the entrance to the new Ekco development being placed at the end of their road, I have now personally spoken to many of the residents. They have told me the survey was 'confusing' and 'vague'.

Now the residents have been told clearly what the plans entail and the proposed size of the residential development, I have been assured that should Cllr Lewin wish to reissue the survey, he will receive a response which accurately reflects the residents' utter rejection of the proposals as they stand (and of his position.)

Altex boasts a wealth of experience and quality

ALTEX (UK) have been suppliers to the trade, commercial and retail markets since 1987, with both proprietors having many years' experience in the window industry prior to forming their own company.

Altex (UK)'s head office, principle factory and showcentre are situated at 58 Tailors Court, and a further factory unit at 50 Tailors Court specialises in architectural aluminium fabrications. Our current premises have the capacity to manufacture in excess of 250 windows per week and are an optimum size for our business to remain totally under family control.

Our new show centre opened during 2007 to coincide with our 20th anniversary celebrations, and all prospective clients are welcome to visit our premises without appointment.

Altex is a family business and proprietors Andrew and Paul Bawden are able to offer you a service surpassing the expertise and assurance you would expect from a national window company at a more affordable price.

Having traded for nearly 27 years Altex has built up a wealth of experience in variety of windows and door systems and although Altex has always undertaken window and door repairs we have never advertised the fact that we do. This year director Andrew Bawden decided to put a couple of vans on the road specifically to meet the need for the growing window and door repair market. Even if your windows aren't experiencing any problems you can transform the look for your property by changing clear glass units to leaded or georgian designs, or even just upgrade the warmth and comfort of your home by fitting new energy saving glass sealed units to your existing windows. So for repairs, refurbishments or even new windows and doors.

Thank your lucky Starsky

By LIZ WADE and PAT HIGGINS

A NEW production of one of the world's favourite musicals will be hitting the stage at the Cliffs Pavilion this month starring Paul Michael Glaser, from the classic television cop show Starsky and Hutch.

While Paul may be best known for his role as policeman David Starsky in the hit 70s series, the acclaimed actor is also a director and writer, and no stranger to the stage or to the musical itself - Fiddler on the Roof.

In actual fact he appeared in several Broadway productions at the beginning of his career before landing a role in his first feature film - the screen version of Fiddler on the Roof in 1971 - all before his appearance in the classic police television series.

The classic musical follows the story of Tevye, a local milkman in his village of Anatevka, in Russia, who has always lived by his traditions. But when his headstrong daughters suddenly decide that they want to marry for love rather than accept whatever yente the matchmaker comes up with Tevye has to convince his wife and the villagers that their decisions are actually falling in with tradition.

It may not be an easy thing to do, but if anyone can do it then the wily Tevye can.

While Paul played Perchik, a student and Bolshevik revolutionary who falls in love with one of Tevye's daughters, Hodel, in the 1971 film, he takes to the stage in the lead role of Tevye during this tour of the UK, which began last year.

The 70-year-old said: "I have a fondness for Fiddler on the Roof. It's a great show and I think Tevye is one of the best roles I have had. It makes me feel good."

"However, I had forgotten how much singing there is in the part," he added, "I never thought of myself as a singer, but I'm told I'm doing okay."

"The stage version is obviously very different from big screen, but I love the theatre. It is an actor's medium where film is a director's."

"I have a theatrical background and love the contact you get with the audience as soon as the curtain goes up."

"I set myself high standards and am happy if I produce two or three good performances a week - judged on my own values."

"I prefer to adopt a light touch with audiences. I believe it's better to tickle them with feather before you stick them with a pin."

"I also enjoy directing because it gives you a chance to explore different creative avenues."

The new production of Fiddler on the Roof has been brought to the stage by the award-winning producers of The King and I and High Society, and is also directed and choreographed by Craig Revel Horwood, the nation's favourite Strictly Come Dancing judge and master of the musical stage, who wowed audiences at the Cliffs Pavilion recently in their panto production of Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs.

Filled to the brim with classic songs like 'If I Were a Rich Man', 'Matchmaker Matchmaker', 'Sunrise Sunset' and 'To Life', Fiddler On The Roof was the longest running production on Broadway for more than 13 years and when you join Tevye, his family and friends, you will understand why.

Alongside Paul, a number of local children will also be taking to the stage in the production to share the roles of Tevye's two youngest daughters - Bielke and Shprintze.

Westcliff youngster and pupil of Chalkwell Hall Junior School, Lily Spink, nine, and 11-year-old Amelie Meury-Cashman, from Southend, take it in turns to appear as Bielke, while Rosie Errington, 11, from Westcliff, and 12-year-old Thundersly youngster, Eve Glenister, share the role of Shprintze.

While it will be Lily's first production, the experience will not be a new one to the other three children as Thorpe Greenways Junior School pupil Amelie has appeared in George's Marvellous Medicine (BSC), the Palace Theatre Centenary celebrations, and Charlie and the Chocolate Factory at the Dixon Studio, while Rosie, a pupil of Chalkwell Hall Junior School, also appeared in the Palace Centenary.

Eve Glenister, who is a member of the Young Palace Youth Group and attends

Liz at Large

YA features reporter Liz Wade goes out and about with her boys

It's a fair cop guvnor!

AS well as being the centre of operations for Essex Police, the force's headquarters in Chelmsford is also home to a museum dedicated to everything and anything about policing in the county over the years.

From medals and gas masks, to speed guns and breathalysers, the small museum is rammed with so much to see. As well as its artefacts the museum is also home to a replica police phone box – which doubles as an activity centre for children – a Victorian cell where you can step inside and see the conditions of its inmate, Ethel Row, and a 1970's living room where you are encouraged to see if you can spot what would have been important in a forensic search.

The museum, which was established in 1992 and has been open to the public on a regular bases since 2005, has built up a large collection of objects, paper documents and photographs relating to the force from 1840 to the present day in a bid to preserve the history of Essex Police.

As well as providing a place for children to learn more, the museum is also a great venue for older visitors to discover more about some of the crimes that shocked the county, from the murder of PC George Gutteridge in 1927 to the untimely death of Camille Holland in 1899. A display dedicated to the death of PC Gutteridge houses a death mask of one of the men convicted of his killing and bullets with which the murder was committed, while the area dedicated to the Moat Farm murder case tells you more about what happened to Camille, as well as information on Samuel Herbert Dougal's execution by hanging for the crime at Chelmsford Prison in 1903.

You can also find out more about the Women's Auxiliary Police and how women were not allowed to patrol towns in Essex until 1917, discover how the county coped with the floods of 1953, see a Noddy Bike – a Velocette LE motorbike which was first used by police in Southend in the 1960's – and take a look at a witness box that came from Southminster Court and find out how petty sessions, now known as Magistrates Court, first originated in England in the 14th century.

There are also items of police uniform for children to try on including hats, coats and body vests, and a programme of events throughout the year to keep them busy. Up-and-coming events at the museum include Egg Heads on April 16 and 19, when children can make their own police officers from polystyrene eggs; a Build a Police Station event on April 26, complete with garage and cells; An Artist's Impression day on May 3, where children can draw a person from clues; and a Decorate a Truncheon event on May 10. Events have a small charge and some need to be pre-booked so visit their website below for further information.

The museum also regularly hosts talks and future events include a talk by retired PC Steve Wynn on his experiences as an Essex police constable, from 7.30-9pm on May 1, for just £3, places on which need to be pre-booked.

*For further information about the Essex Police Museum call 01245 457150 or visit www.essex.police.uk/museum

There is something for everyone at The Lodge

Advertisement feature

DINERS at The Lodge Country Inn are enjoying new menus alongside a fresh new environment thanks to a major refurbishment.

The friendly, family run business situated in the heart of Essex has been given a new look including new decor, carpets, tables and chairs, following extensive work in November.

With a large marquee, a Glass House restaurant serving a tasteful a la carte menu, an affordable bar menu packed with more than 100 different meals, comfortable hotel rooms and a traditional bar area, the venue really does have a little something for everyone.

Its fully licensed bar has an extensive drinks menu, comprising of a wide array of wines served by the glass, real ales, bottled and draught beers, while its large 120-seater restaurant boasts an appetising range of dishes to suit all tastes and requirements including a two-course special for £10.95 and three-courses for £12.95.

The Lodge's a la carte menu is also available in its stylish conservatory offering you a spacious comfortable environment to try their five star food and enjoy a wide selection on wine served by the glass. The conservatory can be booked for special occasions and set menus can be arranged to suit a range of budgets.

The venue also boasts a large garden with an extensive seating area, bouncy castles and a children's play area.

If you want to keep the children amused whilst going out and visiting family and friends for an enjoyable meal or drink this spring and summer, then look no further than The Lodge.

Its stylish marquee, situated within idyllic country surroundings, is the perfect place for a range of special occasion for 60-200 guests, complete with a late licence until midnight. What's more, as it can now hold civil ceremonies it is the perfect place for your big day so why not call for further information.

A delicious buffet can be supplied, as well as The Lodge's very own DJ, friendly waitresses and bar staff, and experienced Wedding Planners are on hand to guide and help you arrange the wedding you have always dreamed of right down to your individual budget.

There is packed programme of Tribute Nights, Family Fun Days and other events at The Lodge this year so keep an eye out on its website so you don't miss out on all the fun.

Up-and-coming events include an appearance by psychic to the stars, Ronnie Buckingham, who will be hosting a Psychic Night at The Lodge on Wednesday, June 25. Booking is essential for the evening, which costs £19.95 per person and includes a bar meal.

Tribute Nights include Tony Vegas and his Rat Pack tribute on June 5, the one and only Simon James as Michael Bublé on July 3, a Blues Brothers tribute on October 2, and a multi-tribute comedy act with Nick Slade on November 6.

A Family Fun Weekend will be taking place over the May Bank Holiday, on Sunday and Monday, May 25 and 26, including appearances by Minnie and Mickey Mouse from 4-5pm and face painting all day on both days, as well as a Children's Karaoke from 6-8pm on Sunday and entertainment from classic 60s band, Larry and the Streamers from 3-6pm on Monday.

This is all on top of great weekly family entertainment, from Karaoke nights on Sunday and Hugh Rainey's Jazz band every Tuesday, to Music Quiz Nights every other Wednesday with the next taking place on April 16.

There's also live Friday bands with free admission and up-and-coming appearances include Arizona on April 25, Jupiter Ray on May 16, Streets Ahead on May 30, Total 80s on June 13 and Street Life on June 27. CONDITIONS OF ACCEPTANCE FOR ALL ADVERTISEMENTS

Orders are accepted by the Publishers subject to the Standard Conditions agreed between the Newspaper Society and the Institute of Practitioners in Advertising. Save that:

1. Advertisements are accepted on the conditions that (a) descriptions relating to goods are accurate and in no way contravene the provisions of the Trade Descriptions Act 1968, and the Fair Trading Act 1973, and (b) the copy complies with the British Code of Advertising Practice. Advertisements offering credit or hire facilities must conform to the Consumer Credit (Advertisements) Regulations 1989.
2. 'Classified' Advertisers offering goods or service of a business, commercial or trade nature will, at the discretion of the Publishers, be deemed 'Trade Advertisers', and as such, must state their names in advertisements. A telephone number is an optional addition to these requirements and not an alternative.
3. To comply with the Business Advertisements (Disclosure) Order 1977, Trade Advertisers must make it clear that they are selling goods or services. The advertisement must state the name, size or place of the advertisement or by including words such as 'trade', 'dealer', 'agent', 'wholesaler', '(T)' etc. in the advertisement.
4. The Publishers accept no liability whatsoever for any loss or damage however caused arising out of:
- (a) Any error, inaccuracy or omission in the printing or publishing of any advertisement;
- (b) Any failure to publish an advertisement on the day / date or day / dates specified by the advertiser; or
- (c) Any delay in forwarding or omission to forward replies to box numbers to the advertiser.
5. The Publishers will endeavour to publish advertisements on the day / date or day / dates specified by the Advertiser but insertion days / dates cannot be guaranteed.
6. Where shrinkage of advertisement occurs for whatever reasons the advertisement will be charged to the nearest full centimetre. This will NOT apply to the full-page advertisements, which remain full pages even after shrinkage.
7. The Publishers reserve the right to reject an advertisement or to vary it in any way they deem fit, at any time before publication, whether or not the advertisement has already been accepted for publication.
8. Whilst every effort is made to minimise errors in advertisements, mistakes do sometimes occur. Advertisers or their agents should therefore check their advertisements and inform us of any errors immediately. Responsibility cannot be accepted for more than one incorrect insertion. Typographical or minor changes, which do not affect the value of the advertisement, do not qualify for republication or allowances.
9. All gross advertising rates (except classified line and semi-display) are subject to and include a 0.1% Advertising Standards Board of Finance surcharge, payable by the advertisers to help finance the self-regulatory control system administered by the Advertising Standards Authority.
10. All rates quoted are subject to VAT at the rate currently in force at the time the advertisement appears.
11. Should the rate for advertisements be altered the price for remaining insertions shall be revised accordingly or the publishers shall have the right to cancel the unexpired portion of the order.
12. The placing of an advertisement order will be deemed an acceptance of these conditions.
13. Account facilities are granted at the discretion of the Company.
14. All accounts must be settled within the terms agreed by the Company and the Customer.
15. (1) Should an advertiser be in breach of the agreed terms, the publisher shall be entitled to levy a 10% surcharge on the value of the whole debt in respect of accounts with terms of less than 30 days, and any discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be reclaimed.
- (2) Regular monthly accounts that are in breach of the agreed terms will pay an interest rate of 6% above the current bank of England base rate for each month that the account is overdue and discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be reclaimed. Should Legal action be required the interest will be charged in accordance with the County Court Act 1984.
16. Where an advertiser instructs / appoints an advertising agent to act on their behalf, the advertiser will remain jointly and severally liable for payment in respect for an advertisement should the appointed agent fail to pay. For the avoidance of doubt, the agent acts for the advertiser and not for the publisher with the agent being responsible for notifying the advertiser of this liability.
17. All queries must be notified, preferably in writing to the accounts department of the publisher within 7 days of the invoice date.
18. All digital services are maintained in partnership with the publishers' hosting service providers. Every effort is made to ensure the continuity of these services, but some occasional technical downtime beyond the publishers control may occur. The publisher and its associated companies shall be under no liability if the production and distribution of web services is delayed or prevented by any cause beyond the control of the publisher.
19. The Publisher may provide voucher copies for published advertisements in electronic form only subject to certain criteria. Further information is available on request.
20. The copyright of advertisements produced wholly or partially by the Publishers belong to the Publishers. Advertisers may not reproduce such advertisements without the Publishers' consent.

Box Numbers
Boxes are open for the receipt of bona fide answers and are not available for distribution of trade canvassing matter. Original testimonials, goods, cash, cash stamps or payments of any kind must not be enclosed. A box Number and postal address are charged as part of the advertisement, i.e. Box No., centre address. Landlord Question

I am just about to rent out my property for the first time and want to know if it's worth paying for a Rent Guarantee Policy?

Think Property Answer

These policies are invaluable for most landlords. As a tax deductible premium this will guarantee you receive the rent you are expecting from your property regardless of your tenants personal circumstances, ability or willingness to pay the rent.

If you have a mortgage on the property or have calculated your rental income verses your outgoings this will ensure you do receive your rent. Most such policies will include the legal expenses, as detailed above. You will receive your rent and the legal fees to obtain vacant possession will be covered.

Policies will usually guarantee your rental for a fixed period, typically 6 or 12 months. Some policies will provide additional cover once you have obtained vacant possession until you are able to re-let your policy.

There were over 150,000 possession hearings in 2001 in relation to the 2.7m lets that took place the risk is relatively small but if you need to have your rent on a regular and guaranteed basis this insurance should be a high priority.

Think Property have a range of policies available, often free of charge so please call Mark on 01702 470625 for more details.

ASK THE AGENT

ALAN KIRKMAN

Q. Is the Green Deal still available?

A. Yes, as far as I know – although since it was launched with such fanfare a couple of years ago, it hasn't exactly been a runaway success.

For those who don't know, the Green Deal is the Government's flagship scheme for encouraging householders to make their homes more energy efficient. The idea is that following an official assessment, you take out a loan of up to £10,000 to have the necessary work done. The loans themselves are repaid through higher energy bills over a period of 25 years – subject to what the Government calls The Golden Rule, which says that the savings made through greater energy efficiency must be greater than the cost of the improvements required.

The underlying logic of the Green Deal scheme is that the home improvements in question are effectively “free at the point of installation” – and, theoretically at least, all the more attractive as a result. So far, however, hard-pressed homeowners have shown themselves to be distinctly underwhelmed by the proposition, and take-up has been correspondingly sluggish.

Why is this? After all, on the surface, at least, it seems like an extremely good wheeze.

Well, one of the main stumbling blocks, so it has been suggested in the press, is the fact that Green Deal loans are tied to the property, rather than to the individual homeowner. This means that if the property is subsequently sold or changes hands, repayments have to be continued by the new owner, up to the original end date. And even allowing for the fact that the benefits are supposed to outweigh the costs, people are not generally that keen on saddling their homes with an ongoing financial obligation which not only puts them personally in debt, but which they also worry may make their homes more difficult to sell - although as far as I am aware, there is no statistical evidence to justify this concern.

So, to sum up – yes, the Green Deal still exists, which means that if you want to, you can borrow up to £10,000 to have your home made more energy efficient. If that's the case, then the first thing you need to do is to get your friendly local Green Deal Assessor to come and, well, assess it!

Your country estate

COMPACT BUT CAPACIOUS: The new Peugeot 308 SW. The 300 series has included an estate variant since the 304, way back in 1969

PEUGEOT'S new 308 SW estate model will cost from £16,895 when it arrives in June. It continues a pattern that has seen every generation of the 300 series include an estate variant since the 304, back in 1969.

From launch, the new-comer will be available with three petrol and five HDi diesel engines, all with the promise of class-leading fuel economy and low CO2 emissions. In fact the 308 is the first Peugeot to receive a new three-cylinder turbo petrol engine – the PureTech 1.2-litre e-THP with a choice of 110 or 130bhp.

Also available will be BlueHDi models, including a unit with emissions of 82g/km in the hatchback and 85g/km in the SW, plus next generation six-speed automatic gearboxes.

Four trim grades – Access, Active, Allure and Feline – are up for grabs in a car that has been completely redesigned to offer a sleek and sporty style.

And despite being a compact estate, the car's dimensions – 4.58m long

by Mike Torpey

and 1.47m high – are sufficient to provide ample space, versatility and practicality.

The French manufacturer says that the new SW's boot capacity is class-leading and its rear seats are folded with a single action from inside the boot to provide a perfectly flat floor.

Weight-saving technology has resulted in the Peugeot being 140kg lighter than its predecessor, enhancing the overall driving experience.

Inside, the i-Cockpit is the same as that featured in the 308 hatchback and highlights Peugeot's continued move upmarket.

Simple, intuitive and smart, it comprises a raised instrument panel, high centre console and 9.7-inch touchscreen.

There's just a single button, then everything else – multimedia, air-flow, sat-nav, heating – is controlled on the screen.

Pricing ranges from the PureTech 1.2L e-THP at £16,895, to £25,145 for the 2L BlueHDi 150 six-speed Feline automatic.

Eight in 10 say yes to 20mph speed limits

Support arrives fast for slow-down

by Mike Torpey

HUGE public support for 20mph limits has been revealed by road safety charity Brake.

Its latest survey, in conjunction with Allianz Insurance, shows eight in 10 people think 20mph should be the norm around schools, on residential streets and in village, town and city centres. The news comes as Brake takes its GO 20 campaign to Parliament, calling on it to support the introduction of 20mph as the default urban speed limit.

The survey also found that seven in 10 say roads in their town or village need to be made safer for walking and cycling, while eight in 10 say traffic travels too fast on some or most of their local roads. And eight in 10 also think it would encourage more people to walk or cycle if roads and routes in their town or village were made safer.

With an estimated 12.5 million people in the UK now living in areas implementing or committed to widespread 20mph limits, Brake argues the country is reaching a tipping point where it makes social and economic sense to make a national change.

Areas that have already introduced 20mph limits have seen significant reductions in casualties. In Portsmouth, they fell by 22 per cent and in Camden, north London, crashes reduced by 54 per cent.

Other high-profile local authorities now 'GOing 20' include the City of London, Birmingham, Newcastle and Edinburgh. Brake is urging members of the public to write to their MP to support the GO 20 initiative and 'Pledge to GO 20' themselves.

The group's deputy chief executive Julie Townsend said: "The GO 20 campaign is about defending everyone's right to walk and cycle freely without being endangered, whether it's to get to work, school, the shops or just getting out and being active. "It's clear that 20mph limits in communities can help bring this about – and it's clear this is what people want."

"That's why so many local authorities are making the switch from 30mph to 20mph."

CONDITIONS OF ACCEPTANCE FOR ALL ADVERTISEMENTS

Orders are accepted by the Publishers subject to the Standard Conditions agreed between the Newspaper Society and the Institute of Practitioners in Advertising. Save that:

1. Advertisements are accepted on the conditions that (a) descriptions relating to goods are accurate and in no way contravene the provisions of the Trade Descriptions Act 1968, and the Fair Trading Act 1973, and (b) the copy complies with the British Code of Advertising Practice. Advertisements offering credit or hire facilities must conform to the Consumer Credit (Advertisements) Regulations 1980.
2. 'Classified' Advertisers offering goods or service of a business, commercial or trade nature will, at the discretion of the Publishers, be deemed 'Trade Advertisers', and as such, must include their names in advertisements. A telephone number is an optional addition to these requirements and not an alternative.

To comply with the Business Advertisements (Disclosure) Order 1977, Trade Advertisers must make it clear that they are selling goods in the course of business either by content, format, size or place of the advertisement or by including words such as 'trade', 'dealer', 'agent', 'wholesaler', '(T)' etc. in the advertisement.

3. The Publishers accept no liability whatsoever for any loss or damage however caused arising out of:
 - (a) Any error, inaccuracy or omission in the printing or publishing of any advertisement;
 - (b) Any failure to publish an advertisement on the day / date or day / dates specified by the advertiser; or
 - (c) Any delay in forwarding or omission to forward replies to box numbers to the Advertiser.
4. The Publishers will endeavour to publish advertisements on the day / date or day / dates specified by the Advertiser but insertion days / dates cannot be guaranteed.
5. Where shrinkage of advertisement occurs for whatever reasons the advertisement will be charged to the nearest full centimetre. This will NOT apply to the full-page advertisements, which remain full pages even after shrinkage.
6. The Publishers reserve the right to reject an advertisement or to vary it in any way they deem fit, at any time before publication, whether or not the advertisement has already been accepted for publication.
7. Whilst every effort is made to minimise errors in advertisements, mistakes do sometimes occur. Advertisers or their agents should therefore check their advertisements and inform us of any errors immediately. Responsibility cannot be accepted for more than one incorrect insertion. Typographical or minor changes, which do not affect the value of the advertisement, do not qualify for republication or allowances.
8. All gross advertising rates (except classified lineage and semi-display) are subject to and include a 0.1% Advertising Standards Board of Finance surcharge, payable by the advertisers to help finance the self-regulatory control system administered by the Advertising Standards Authority.
9. All rates quoted are subject to VAT at the rate currently in force at the time the advertisement appears.
10. Should the rate for advertisements be altered the price for remaining insertions shall be revised accordingly or the publishers shall have the right to cancel the unexpired portion of the order.
11. The placing of an advertisement order will be deemed an acceptance of these conditions.
12. Account facilities are granted at the discretion of the Company.
13. All accounts must be settled within the terms agreed by the Company and the Customer.
 - (1) Should an advertiser be in breach of the agreed terms, the publisher shall be entitled to levy a 10% surcharge on the value of the whole debt in respect of accounts with terms of less than 30 days, and any discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be reclaimed.
 - (2) Regular monthly accounts that are in breach of the agreed terms will pay an interest rate of 6% above the current bank of England base rate for each month that the account is overdue and discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be reclaimed. Should Legal action be required the interest will be charged in accordance with the County Court Act 1984.
14. Where an advertiser instructs / appoints an advertising agent to act on their behalf, the advertiser will remain jointly and severally liable for payment in respect of an advertisement(s) should the appointed agent fail to pay. For the avoidance of doubt, the agent acts for the advertiser and not for the publisher with the agent being responsible for notifying the advertiser of this liability.
15. All queries must be notified, preferably in writing to the accounts department of the publisher within 7 days of the invoice date.
16. All digital services are maintained in partnership with the publishers' hosting service providers. Every effort is made to ensure the continuity of these services, but some occasional technical downtime beyond the publishers control may occur. The publisher and its associated companies shall be under no liability if the production and distribution of web services is delayed or prevented by any cause beyond the control of the publisher.
17. The Publisher may provide voucher copies for published advertisements in electronic form only subject to certain criteria. Further information is available on request.
18. The copyright of advertisements produced wholly or partially by the Publishers belong to the Publishers. Advertisers may not reproduce such advertisements without the Publishers' consent.

CONDITIONS OF ACCEPTANCE FOR ALL ADVERTISEMENTS

Orders are accepted by the Publishers subject to the Standard Conditions agreed between the Newspaper Society and the Institute of Practitioners in Advertising. Save that:

1. Advertisements are accepted on the conditions that (a) descriptions relating to goods are accurate and in no way contravene the provisions of the Trade Descriptions Act 1968, and the Fair Trading Act 1973, and (b) the copy complies with the British Code of Advertising Practice. Advertisements offering credit or hire facilities must conform to the Consumer Credit (Advertisements) Regulations 1980.

2. Classified Advertisers offering goods or service of a business, commercial or trade nature will, at the discretion of the Publishers, be deemed 'Trade Advertisers', and as such, must include their names in advertisements. A telephone number is an optional addition to these requirements and not an alternative.

To comply with the Business Advertisements (Disclosure) Order 1977, Trade Advertisers must make it clear that they are selling goods in the course of business either by content, format, size or place of the advertisement or by including words such as 'trade', 'dealer', 'agent', 'wholesaler', '(T)' etc. in the advertisement.

3. The Publishers accept no liability whatsoever for any loss or damage however caused arising out of:

(a) Any error, inaccuracy or omission in the printing or publishing of any advertisement;
(b) Any failure to publish an advertisement on the day / date or day / dates specified by the advertiser; or
(c) Any delay in forwarding or omission to forward replies to box numbers to the advertiser.

4. The Publishers will endeavour to publish advertisements on the day / date or day / dates specified by the advertiser but insertion days / dates cannot be guaranteed.

5. Where shrinkage of advertisement occurs for whatever reasons the advertisement will be charged to the nearest full centimetre. This will NOT apply to the full-page advertisements, which remain full pages even after shrinkage.

6. The Publishers reserve the right to reject an advertisement or to vary it in any way they deem fit, at any time before publication, whether or not the advertisement has already been accepted for publication.

7. Whilst every effort is made to minimise errors in advertisements, mistakes do sometimes occur. Advertisers or their agents should therefore check their advertisements and inform us of any errors immediately. Responsibility cannot be accepted for more than one incorrect insertion. Typographical or minor changes, which do not affect the value of the advertisement, do not qualify for republication or allowances.

8. All gross advertising rates (except classified line and semi-display) are subject to and include a 0.1% Advertising Standards Board of Finance surcharge, payable by the advertisers to help finance the self-regulatory control system administered by the Advertising Standards Authority.

9. All rates quoted are subject to VAT at the rate currently in force at the time the advertisement appears.

10. Should the rate for advertisements be altered the price for remaining insertions shall be revised accordingly or the publishers shall have the right to cancel the unexpired portion of the order.

11. The placing of an advertisement order will be deemed an acceptance of these conditions.

12. Account facilities are granted at the discretion of the Company.

13. All accounts must be settled within the terms agreed by the Company and the Customer.

(1) Should an advertiser be in breach of the agreed terms, the publisher shall be entitled to levy a 10% surcharge on the value of the whole debt in respect of accounts with terms of less than 30 days, and any discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be reclaimed.

(2) Regular monthly accounts that are in breach of the agreed terms will pay an interest rate of 6% above the current bank of England base rate for each month that the account is overdue and discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be reclaimed. Should Legal action be required the interest will be charged in accordance with the County Court Act 1984.

14. Where an advertiser instructs / appoints an advertising agent to act on their behalf, the advertiser will remain jointly and severally liable for payment in respect for an advertisement(s) should the appointed agent fail to pay. For the avoidance of doubt, the publisher acts for the advertiser and not for the publisher with the agent being responsible for notifying the advertiser of this liability.

15. All queries must be notified, preferably in writing to the accounts department of the publisher within 7 days of the invoice date.

16. All digital services are maintained in partnership with the publishers' hosting service providers. Every effort is made to ensure the continuity of these services, but some occasional technical downtime beyond the publishers control may occur. The publisher acts for its associated companies shall be under no liability if the production and distribution of web services is delayed or prevented by any cause beyond the control of the publisher.

17. The Publisher may provide voucher copies for published advertisements in electronic form only subject to certain criteria. Further information is available on request.

18. The copyright of advertisements produced wholly or partially by the Publishers belong to the Publishers. Advertisers may not reproduce such advertisements without the Publishers' consent.

BLUES' SEASON BACK ON TRACK

Southend United

Cheltenham 1 Southend United 2

SOUTHEND came from behind with two second half goals in three minutes on Saturday to snatch an important win and consolidate their place in the play-off positions of Sky Bet League Two.

A volley in first-half injury time from Byron Harrison had handed the home side the advantage.

The Blues equalised just after the hour mark when substitute Barry Corr pounced on a loose ball and steered his shot into the bottom corner of the net.

Three minutes later Kevan

Hurst stabbed the ball past keeper Scott Brown to seal the Shrimpers' victory.

The Robins came close to drawing level with an 84th-minute strike from sub Zack Kotwica, but Southend keeper Daniel Bentley, who has had a fantastic season so far, kept the ball out.

Southend are now in sixth place, six points shy of fifth place Burton Albion.

Cheltenham Town: Brown, Brundie, Jombati, Noble, Brown, Ihiekwe, Deering, Daniels, Harrison, McGlashan, Richards. Subs: Taylor, Cureton, Gornell, Roberts, Kotwica, Vincent, Braham-Barrett

Southend United: Bentley, White, Coker, Leonard, Sokolik, Egan, Atkinson, Timlin, Loza, Barnard, Hurst, Subs: Prosser, Eastwood, Corr, Straker, Murphy, Clifford, Chambers

WINNER: Kevan Hurst

Writtle win trophy final

Southendian 2 Writtle 3

Essex Women's Trophy Final
A GOAL 11 minutes into stoppage time sealed a dramatic Essex Women's Trophy success for Writtle on Sunday.

Courtney Clarke's first-half strike had given Writtle a half time lead, but strikes from Liz Newcomb and Ellie Turner-Powell had edged Southendian ahead. Caroline Brown hauled Writtle back before Emma Riding's dramatic late winner.

Writtle started the game on the front foot and chances had already come and gone before on 26 minutes Clarke found space and shot into the bottom corner.

The second-half made for a great spectacle as Newcomb's half-volley levelled the arrears on 54 minutes while Turner-Powell's full volley just three minutes later put the Essex County Women's League Premier Division side ahead.

The lead lasted eight minutes as Brown's speculative 20-yard effort caught out Southendian goalkeeper Lydia Tindell to make it 2-2 before the game was settled deep into added time.

A right-flank cross eluded the Southendian defence and Ridings at the back post sealed the win.

Southendian: Lydia Tindell, Sophie Ellis, Stevie Lorraine, Nikol Chapman, Paige White, Rhiane Cunningham, Liz Newcomb, Lucy Dagarn, Amanda Nicholl, Tracy Rodd, Emma Newcomb. Subs: Georgia Holdaway, Sarah Petty, Shannon Mackie, Ellie Turner-Powell, Gabi Bailey.

Writtle: Rhiana Farr, Caroline Brown, Kayleigh Franklin, Georgia Wheale, Kim Jeffery, Abigail Fry, Mollie DeBell, Kayleigh Peters, Emma Ridings, Courtney Clarke, Leanne Stubbings. Subs: Laura Kendle, Amy Simmons, Lynette Jones.

This year they will again be competing on all fronts battling it out in the NatWest T20 Blast, The Royal London One-Day Cup and the LV=County Championship.

Their first game against Derbyshire will take place at The Essex County Ground in Chelmsford on Sunday, April 13, during the LV= County Championship, while Essex Eagles' first home game will be the NatWest T20 Blast against Glamorgan on Friday, May 23. The Royal London One-Day Cup starts on Thursday, July 31, against Leicestershire Foxes.

Essex have an array of talent in the squad including international players Alastair Cook, Ravi Bopara, Ryan ten Doeschate and Monty Panesar who is starting his first full season with Essex after joining last year.

Football

Concord claim another victory

Non-League round up by Brian Jeeves

CONCORD Rangers remained in the top half of the Skril Conference South with another away day special. This time FA Trophy finalists Gosport Borough were the Beach Boys victims, as second half goals from Lewis Taaffe and skipper Tony Stokes earned a 2-1 triumph.

However, Chelmsford City slipped into the relegation zone after a dramatic 4-3 defeat at Boreham Wood, Christian Smith (penalty), Matthew Lock and Luke Callander were on target for the unlucky Clarets.

In the Ryman Premier Division there was a surprise defeat for AFC Hornchurch. The potent George Purcell fired the Urchins ahead with a first half penalty, however, visitors Hendon hit back to take the points with a 2-1 victory. East Thurrock United secured a 2-0 derby win over Canvey Island, while Billericay Town grabbed a 1-1 draw at Lewes. And there was a useful point on the road for Grays Athletic who shared four goals with Harrow Borough.

Plenty of drama in the Ryman North, an Alexander Read goal just after the break earned Harlow Town a 1-0 win at Aveley, and it was the same outcome at Redbridge where just 54 fans watched Chatham Town walk away with the points.

Tilbury edged out Romford 2-1, Danny Aldwinckle grabbing a brace for the Dockers, and Maldon & Tiptree won an entertaining game at Erith & Belvedere by four goals to two. There was a cracker at Burnham Ramblers where the home side drew 3-3 with Brentwood Town, and a 2-2 draw at Soham Town Rangers where Lewis Francis and Christopher Taylor found the net for visitors Barkingside.

Heybridge Swifts won 2-0 at Waltham Forest, but there were defeats for Witham Town, 3-1 at VCD Athletic, and Thurrock, by the same score at home to Dereham Town.

Plenty of goals and drama in the Essex Senior League. Game of the day saw the top two meet at Mile End Stadium. Tower Hamlets raced into a 2-0 lead, only for Great Wakering Rovers to grab a point thanks to goals from Lewis Sparrow and the evergreen Bertie Brayley. Enfield 1893 kept up the chase with a 5-2 win at Greenhouse London, while there were 5-1 triumphs for Eton Manor, over Basildon United, and FC Romania, against Takeley. Nine-man Clapton continued their fine campaign with a 3-1 win at Barking and there was a 2-0 win for Haringey Borough at London Bari.

Sawbridgeworth Town and Sporting Bengal United fought out an entertaining 2-2 draw, and a single goal at Southchurch Park was enough to see Bowers & Pitsea overcome Southend Manor.
